Holiday Cheer Arrives

The season is in full swing at the Nascentia Neighborhood, complete with cheerful holiday decorations and a surprise "mascot" joining the fun. If you spotted the Abominable Snowman riding along in one of our trucks, don't worry, he's just helping us spread a little winter cheer!

Legacy of the Beeches

The Capitoline Wolf

The statue at the entrance of Beeches Manor is hard to miss. This famous sculpture from ancient Rome is a replica of the Capitoline Wolf, depicting the she-wolf caring for the twin founders of the city, Romulus and Remus. Gifted to the city of Rome, NY in 1958 by friends in Italy, it was placed on the Beeches property as a tribute to the community's connection to its namesake. Today, it remains a unique historic feature of the estate and a reminder of the area's rich cultural heritage.

Care in Action

Pediatric Family Holiday Giving Program

Our Foundation's Pediatric Family Holiday Giving Program supports families nominated by clinicians who have at least one Nascentia Health patient in the home. This year we assisted six families including 11 adults, 17 children, and one beloved pet. Thanks to the generosity of our employees and Board members, each family received gifts and a holiday meal from CopperTop Tavern.

Winter on the Move

Snowmobilers Welcome at Beeches Manor

Snowmobilers are always welcome at Beeches Manor, with plenty of convenient parking right outside the Pub for a warm meal or quick break. We're grateful to our friends at the West Rome Rider Snowmobile Club for keeping the trails in great shape all season long. Stop in, warm up, and enjoy everything the Manor has to offer this winter.

Community Connections

Rome Art and Community Center Art Display

Nascentia Health and the Rome Art and Community Center have partnered to bring local art into the heart of the community. This holiday season, four pieces by media-based artist Rebecca Moshaty of Auburn, NY, are on display at Beeches Manor. The artwork is available for purchase and offers a festive, serene showcase that celebrates creativity and connection. Learn more about RACC at romeart.org.

Season of Giving

Pediatric Ornament Initiative

This holiday season, our team is once again spreading joy through the Pediatric Ornament Initiative. Nascentia employees selected ornaments from our giving tree to provide personalized gifts for all 84 of our pediatric patients. Our clinicians have been enjoying festive wrapping parties, carefully matching each gift to each child. Together, we are making the season brighter for every young patient in our care.
